Cement is versatile and resistant, making it one of the most used materials in construction and in the creation of modern and elegant surfaces. With Cement Vibes we have created a transversal series in which the two finishes, Solid and Resin, can be combined with each other or exist separately. The first is composed of several elements, is less pure, more material. Resin, on the other hand, has more modern characteristics because it is homogeneous and with a more uniform color. The decorative Handmade structure, available in the different colors of the backgrounds, completes the collection.
